

Case Study: Picturehouse Cinema

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Project Name: Picturehouse Cinema

Location: Hackney, London

Contractor: Maeve Contractors Limited

Sector: Leisure & Entertainment

The Brief

Originally Hackney Central Library and later a concert venue, this landmark building was transformed in 2011 into a six-screen cinema, complete with a restaurant and two bars. The venue combines modern industrial glamour with bold brutalist architecture, creating a distinctive and visually striking leisure environment. The washroom facilities needed to complement the building's architectural character while delivering durability and performance suited to a high-footfall cinema setting.

Our Solution

Total Laminate Systems supplied and installed Elegance 13 cubicles in Solid Grade Laminate (SGL) across both the Male and Female WC areas. The female washroom incorporated a particularly unique layout, with cubicles set at an angle to create a visually dynamic and contemporary design. This configuration required careful setting out and precision installation to maintain consistency of finish and alignment. The scheme was completed with coordinated Solid Grade Laminate IPS panels to both the WC and urinal areas, ensuring a clean, cohesive aesthetic throughout.
